LEARN TO BOO! WITH THE BEST

Each night the elite Scream Team members fan out worldwide to hide in closets so they can frighten little kids. These monsters are the heroes of their world. They're the best of the best, they're cool, they're really ugly, and most of all, SCARY!!!

Sulley and Mike are sure they are Monsters, Inc. material. Sulley's enormous horned head and body are covered by blue and purple fur. Ferocious claws stick out from his massive paws. He has sharp huge teeth, and can deliver a deep menacing growl. Sulley's pal Mike is a tiny green ball of energy with one huge blinking eyeball for a head. (He's a little sensitive about the eye thing.) He can bounce around like a haunted basketball and cut loose with a terrifying yell.

In the Monster world, Sulley and Mike are the one's who will, with your help, one day become the Top Scarers.

But the scariest, most toxic thing to a monster is a child. The thought of being touched by a little kid leaves even the creepiest most hideous monster trembling in terror. The monsters are convinced that if a kid's hands ever got on them, even for a second, they would instantly melt into a puddle of ooze. Worse, monsters know that some kids even think they're cute. Nothing could wreck a career at Monsters, Inc. like being branded cuddly.

To help get over the kid dread thing, these future Top Scarers created a special monster training program at Scare Island. Experts at scare-ology teach scare tactics to help trainees overcome toddler terror to become frightening Scream Team level monsters. They use specially designed training robots called Nerves that scream in terror when frightened. Since they are not really children, the monsters feel safe.

So if your growl gets giggles, if there's no bang in your BOO!, maybe you should join Sulley and Mike at Scare Island.

We'll transform you into major league Monsters, Inc. material and you'll graduate with top honors as a shrieking, Nerve shattering superstar of scare.

Fright Meter

The Fright Meter tells you if you have enough Primordial Ooze to scare a Nerve of a certain color. In order to scare a Nerve, the Fright Meter's corresponding color must be completely filled with Primordial Ooze.

Ooze Counter

This shows how much Primordial Ooze you have. Primordial Ooze raises your Fright Meter, so be sure to grab as much as you can before putting a scare into a Nerve.

PLAYING THE GAME

Orientation

Our orientation program teaches you the basics for training at Scare Island.

You will learn:

- Monster moves including attacks and crate crushing.
- Learn about Primordial Ooze collection and use.
- Scaring a Nerve to pieces.

The orientation is directed by Roz, a longtime Monsters, Inc. staff member. Follow her directions and everything will be just fine. After Orientation, Sulley and Mike will get a few words of encouragement from Monsters, Inc. head of operations, Waternoose. Then serious training begins.

Scare Island and Training Grounds

Scare Island is the center of operations. There are three training grounds — the Urban Training Grounds, the Desert Training Grounds and the Arctic Training Grounds. Each training ground has four different regions. Urban Training Grounds is your first training area, followed by the Desert Training Grounds and finally, the Arctic Training Grounds. Once you have earned access to an area, you can return by walking up to its door on Scare Island and pressing the ○ button to open the gate.

Returning to Scare Island

At the beginning of each training ground there is a Region Select Screen. If you want to return to Scare Island from a Region Select Screen, press the △ button to CANCEL and Sulley or Mike will return to Scare Island.

Regions

Each of the three training grounds is divided into four regions. When you enter an area from Scare Island, the Region screen appears.

- Select any of the four regions to begin.
- Certain areas of a region are really tough to find, or are totally unreachable without the help of Monster Enhancements. Monster Enhancements give Sulley and Mike special powers to explore the far reaches and hidden areas of a region. You will have to return to regions once you unlock a Monster Enhancement to explore areas you were unable to reach before.

See "Challenge Randall to Win Monster Enhancements" on page 20.

Play as Sulley or Mike

Once you have selected a region, the character select screen appears. Select Sulley or Mike and press the × button to enter the region. You always have a choice of monsters before entering a region.

Searching

Keep your eyes (or eye) peeled for hidden treasures including Bags O' Calories, Extra Try Tokens, Monster Tokens and Primordial Ooze. Nerves hide too. Sometimes you can flush them out by hitting boxes or other objects where they might be hiding. To get a close look at an area or search overhead, press and hold the L1 and R1 buttons while pressing the Directional button or Left stick.

Beware of Tough Toys

At Monsters, Inc. the children are fake but the toys are real.

To graduate, every monster must learn to defend against tough toys.

More than one tough monster has limped back from a Monsters, Inc. mission after being beaten up by some kid's toys. In the old days, toys weren't so dangerous. But modern electronic toys love to attack monsters.

Each attack costs one health point. Try smashing toys with a main attack and others with a pounce attack. Some toys are very tough. You have to figure out special ways of defeating them.

Look Out for Traps and Other Hazards

Be careful of traps or dangerous machinery that are usually placed close to items you really want to grab. Monsters can walk through water, but falling into water results in a loss of health. Each injury costs one health point so be careful.

Doors, Switches and Ladders

- To open some doors, press the ○ button when prompted. Some doors will not open unless you have performed a certain task.
- Switches open doors. To activate a switch, jump on it. Sometimes a door will open some distance away from the switch. Watch closely when you jump on the switch. A close-up of the door opening appears to help you figure out its location.
- To climb a ladder, walk Sulley or Mike up to it and jump on. When asked if you want to climb, select YES and press the ⊗ button.

THE SCARE MODE SCREEN

Get Enough Ooze

Scaring Nerves is the most important task on Monster Island. Nerves are different colors depending on how tough they are to scare. Blue Nerves are easy. Red ones are the hardest. The Fright Meter color that matches the color of the Nerve you want to scare must be completely filled. If you don't have enough Ooze to scare a Nerve, he'll laugh at you just like a real kid. Don't feel bad.

Go find some more Ooze and come back. The little Nerve won't be laughing next time. If you have enough Primordial Ooze, the siren on top of the Nerve will flash when you get close.

Enter Scare Mode

Walk Sulley or Mike up to a Nerve with a blue flashing helmet and press the  button to enter Scare Mode. Rapidly tap the button that corresponds to the button icon that appears above the Scare Canister. Watch for the button icon to change and switch to a new button. Rapidly tap the displayed button until the next button icon appears. When a siren sounds and the Nerve's headlamp flashes yellow, that means the Scare Canister is almost full. Quickly press the  button to deliver the finishing scare.

Watch the Scare Canister

The Scare Canister fills as you scare the Nerve. When you are pressing the scare buttons, watch the Scare Canister. If the Scare Canister level starts dropping, you are not pressing the correct buttons or not pressing them fast enough. Keep pressing the correct button until the canister reaches the final scare line and the siren sounds. Then press the  button quickly to finish off the Nerve.

MONSTER MOVES

Sulley's Moves

Tailspin or Slap Attack

Sulley's main attack is the Tailspin. While pressing the Directional button or Left stick in any direction, press the  button and Sulley spins to whack his tail into crates or toys. If the Directional button or Left stick is not pressed, Sulley slaps things with a powerful right paw.

Monster Fur Flop Aerial Pounce

Sulley's aerial pounce attack ( button +  button) is a belly flop. Use the pounce to squash metal crates and toys.

Somersault Jump

Press the  button twice to perform Sulley's Somersault jump. For a little extra distance, hold the  button on the second press and Sulley rolls into a ball and flips.

Mike's Moves

Spinning Ball Attack

Like Sulley, Mike's main attack is the spin ( button). But this little monocular monster can roll like a ball careening around on the ground to total out attacking toys or smash wood crates. Just press and hold the  button while pressing the Directional button or the Left stick.

The Bouncing Eyeball Aerial Pounce

Mike's aerial pounce attack ( button +  button) rolls him up into a ball to bounce on a toy or crate. Press the  button when in mid-air and Mike will bounce to attack sturdy crates and toys.

Double Jump and Hover Jump

Press the  button twice to perform Mike's double jump. Hold the  button on the second press and Mike gives his legs a quick wiggle to squeeze in a little extra hover time for huge leaps.

Jumping and Hanging

Both Mike and Sulley can jump up to a ledge and hang. Press the  button twice and hold on the second press to make them grab and hang. Press the Directional button or Left stick LEFT/RIGHT to move Sulley or Mike while hanging from a ledge. Press the Directional button or Left stick UP and they will pull up onto a ledge.

MONSTER SUPPLIES

Bag O' Calories

Increases health lost from damage by one point.

Extra Try Token

Sulley and Mike start out with three lives. Find one of these and win another life.

Primordial Ooze

A Monster's scare power comes from Primordial Ooze. It comes in two different strengths to help fill your Scare Meter. Green ooze fills the meter a little. Red ooze fills it a lot.

Medals are treasured by our graduates. In every region of your scare training, you must win either a Bronze, Silver or Gold Medal to clear the region.

Gold – Scare all 8 Nerves.

Monster Tokens

Mail Boxes

Hit these by pressing the  button for valuable tips and information.

CHALLENGE RANDALL TO WIN MONSTER ENHANCEMENTS

Monster Enhancements give you the power to reach hidden or out of reach places within the training grounds. Monster Enhancements are unlocked by getting four bronze medals in a particular training ground.

Randall is one of Monsters, Inc.'s professional trainers. Collect enough Bronze Medals and automatically compete with Randall in Monster Pursuits. You must beat Randall in a pursuit while collecting the required number of Monster Tokens. Randall Race is used to unlock the next training ground.

Beating Randall is tough. If he wins a pursuit, select RETRY to give it another shot. You can also give up and try later by selecting QUIT TO SCARE ISLAND. Randall hangs around on Scare Island waiting for students to challenge.

THE MONSTERS, INC. TRAINING STAFF

Randall: Speed Trainer

Randall is a veteran of the Scream Team on loan to Scare Island. He will challenge Sulley and Mike to races. Beat him to unlock some training grounds. Find Randall roaming around Scare Island and press the  button to hear what he has to say. Beware of Randall. He's competitive and crabby.

Roz: Orientation

Sulley and Mike won't see Roz but they will sure hear her. She's in charge of orientation training and will teach you the basics. She's trained about a million monsters so nothing really impresses her anymore.

Mr. Waternoose: Your Boss

With all those legs to keep organized you wouldn't think Mr. Waternoose has time for anything else. But he is the big boss at Monsters, Inc. and acting dean at Scare Island too. He'll give Sulley and Mike gameplay tips and tell them what is expected.

THE TRAINING GROUNDS

The Urban Training Grounds

The Scream Team gets lots of missions in the big city. Battle robots, remote control cars and wind-up wharf rats. Track down Nerves in The Marketplace, Downtown, City Park and on the Docks.

The Desert Training Grounds

It's tomb training time when Sulley and Mike cruise crumbling crypts in search of hard to find Nerves. Sledgehammer Scorpions, Cobras and Spikey Lizards keep our monsters walking on sore toes.

The Arctic Training Grounds

We forgot to tell you. The Nerves can fight back. They build sneaky snowmen who nail Sulley or Mike with snowballs. Monsters, Inc. has also stocked the frozen lake with starving ice piranha just to keep it challenging. Hit the penguins when they aren't looking and look out for icicles.
